About the Arranger

Benjamin Yeo (b.1985) is a Singaporean composer who is internationally notable for his original wind band works. He began his music education at the age of seven and later played the trumpet in his Secondary School and Junior College. Being very active in the local band scene, he has guest-performed for many tertiary groups as well as guest-conducted various ensembles in Singapore. His experience in band directing has enabled him to work with students across a wide spectrum of educational institutions from primary to tertiary levels.

As a band enthusiast, Benjamin started writing and arranging music for wind bands and ensembles at the age of fifteen. His works have since been performed in both local and overseas concerts, and have also been featured on both national and international platforms such as the locally held Singapore Youth Festival Arts Presentation for Brass/Concert Bands and various contest/festival lists around the world. He has also been invited to serve as an adjudicator for events such as the Junior Band Festival in Singapore and the All Chinese Wind Band Competition in Taiwan. Benjamin is also active as a guest clinician and conductor with invitations locally and overseas.

Most of his music has been published by C. L. Barnhouse Company, a famous and long-lasting American publisher of band music in the world, as well as Beriato Music (Belgium), a reputable publishing house in Europe. In 2007, his debut work, "Beyond the Highlands", was selected to be on the "New Band Music Reading List" at the prestigious Midwest Clinic, an International Band and Orchestra Conference held in Chicago, Illinois. The following year, his second work, "Legend of the Ancient Hero", was ranked in the Top 100 of over 800 titles in the American Band College/Band World Magazine/Western International Band Clinic Literature List 2008–2009. His lyrical selection, "As the Moon Whispers", also joined the rank of Top 100 in the same Literature List for 2010–2011. Many of his wind band works have also been recorded by world renowned ensembles like the Washington Winds in the USA, the Royal Netherlands Army Band 'Johan Willem Friso', Rundfunk Blasorchester Leipzig and Royal Band of the Belgian Guides in Europe. Most recently, Benjamin's "Winds of Niagara" won the Dallas Wind Symphony Fanfare Competition with a scheduled premiere in March 2017 at the Morton H. Meyerson Symphony Center.

As an active and well sought-after published composer, Benjamin writes largely commissioned works and is a member of the Composers and Authors Society of Singapore (COMPASS).

TAKEDA LULLABY

(竹田の子守唄)

About the Music

is a Japanese folk song setting for wind band commissioned by the 2015-16 Wilson Junior High School Band in El Centro, Cal., for the 'Concert of Premieres' 2016, Mr. Mitch Sturman, Director.

This song has long been sung among the people in the Burakumin areas of Kyoto and Osaka in a slightly different form for many years. During the 1960s, it was picked up as a theme song by the Buraku Liberation League, particularly its branch at Takeda.

Burakumin ("hamlet people") were an outcast community at the bottom of the Japanese social order that had historically been the victim of severe discrimination and ostracism. These communities were often made up of those with occupations considered impure or tainted by death – such as executioners, undertakers, workers in slaughterhouses, butchers or tanners. Professions such as these had severe social stigmas of kegare, or "defilement", attached to them. A Burakumin neighborhood within metropolitan Tokyo was the last to be served by streetcar, and is the site of butcher and leather shops to this day.

In this lullaby a young girl comforts herself with singing about her miserable situation. One day she was forcibly sent away to work for a rich family at a village across the mountain. Every day as she works, with a baby on her back, she is reminded of her family, looking at the silhouette of the mountains in the direction of her homeland.

Note to Conductor

This piece is written for wind band with optional 2-part choir. As this is a lyrical work, phrasing and balance (with choir) is of utmost importance. It is advisable that students study the phrase structure carefully based on the lyrics, so they understand where to breathe. This encourages good breath support for musical phrasing as well as good tone production and intonation.

I hope your players will enjoy rehearsing and performing this work.

Benjamin Yeo

Lyrics

Japanese	English Translation
守も嫌がる 盆から先にや Mori mo iyagaru, Bon kara saki-nya 雪ちらつくし 子も泣くし Yuki mo chiratsuku-shi, Ko mo naku-shi	I would hate baby-sitting beyond *Bon Festival, The snow begins to fall, and the baby cries. How can I be happy even when Bon Festival is here? I don't have nice clothes or a sash to wear.
盆が来たとて 何嬉しから Bon ga kita-tote, Nani ureshi-karo 帷子は無し 帯は無し Katabira wa nashi, Obi wa nashi	This child continues to cry and is mean to me. Every day I grow thinner.
この子よう泣く 守をば むる Kono ko you naku, Mori wo ba ijiru 守も一日 渡せるやら Mori mo ichi-nichi, Yaseru-yara	I would quickly quit here and go back To my parents' home over there, To my parents' home over there.
早よも行きたや この在所越えて Hayo-mo yuki-taya, Kono zaisho koete 向こうに見えるは 親の家 Mukou ni mieru wa, Oya no uchi 向こうに見えるは 親の家 Mukou ni mieru wa, Oya no uchi	* * *

Bon Festival is a Japanese-Buddhist custom to honor the spirit of one's ancestor. This Buddhist-Confucian custom has evolved into a family reunion holiday during which people return to ancestral family places to visit and clean their ancestors' graves. It has been celebrated in Japan for over 500 years and traditionally with a dance, known as Bon-Odori.*
